Meadville Lombard Winter Institute Suspended for 2007

At its most recent meeting, the Meadville Lombard Board of Trustees voted to suspend the 2007 Winter Institute so that the Board, faculty, and administration can focus attention on planning the next steps for the School as it aims to create a learning program that can best meet Unitarian Universalism's vision for excellence in ministerial formation while at the same time maintaining teaching & administrative tasks. All other initiatives will be put on hold for the year. This is significant work to be engaged in and requires the best of everyone involved.

We strongly encourage you to mark your calendars for the 2008 Winter Institute. Those dates are Thursday, February 14th through Saturday, February 16th, 2008. We have our Event Confirmation from the University of Wisconsin and will, again, be in the Lowell Center.
